DR. ALAN KADISH

Dear Graduates,

Congratulations to the entire graduating class of 2020! It is my distinct pleasure to welcome you to our commencement exercises. We regret that circumstances do not allow us to all be in one room together today, but we are certainly joined in spirit.

Today, we honor and celebrate the culmination of your hard work and your commitment to fulfilling your dreams. I am confident that you will continue to transform your aspirations into realities. Touro provides an innovative educational environment that goes beyond classroom instruction. It is our hope that this unique approach to undergraduate education has prepared you with the skills necessary to enter the job market or move on to higher education.

Your graduation occurs during a challenging time. The coronavirus pandemic has brought all of civilization face to face with a crisis that few, if any, could have imagined. The only answer is to persevere with confidence and empathy. Your experiences here have been enriched by Touro's mission to model the values of compassion, service and social justice, and I am confident that we have instilled in you a commitment to serve humankind. You are ambassadors of our institution, and your service to your communities will attest to the values of our mission. Now is the time to apply all the knowledge and skills you have learned at Touro and live with passion and purpose.

As alumni, you remain members of the Touro family. I invite you to join us in alumni activities, stay connected and share your stories of success with your deans and instructors so that we may continue to take pride in your achievements. You will always remain a part of Touro's legacy and future.

Founding President of Touro College and University System

Dr. Bernard Lander, of blessed memory

Dr. Bernard Lander was an inspirational leader and visionary who revolutionized the field of education. Dr. Lander founded Touro College and University System in 1970 and served as its first president until his passing in February 2010. Under his stewardship, Touro underwent significant growth, becoming an institution with multiple campuses and international reach. Dr. Lander's creative genius and original thinking continues to be reflected in Touro's innovative approach to the field of higher education. He believed that it was his mission in life to provide opportunities for advancement for individuals from all walks of life. Before founding Touro College, Dr. Lander was recognized as one of the foremost influences on American Jewry. He was named associate director of former New York City Mayor LaGuardia's Committee on Unity. In 1958, Dr. Lander was appointed dean of the Bernard Revel Graduate School of Yeshiva University. He was a professor of sociology at The City University of New York and was selected to serve on several presidential commissions that dealt with social policy issues. Touro College and University System is Dr. Bernard Lander's legacy, a network of institutions that will continue to provide quality education for many generations to come.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The academic regalia worn today originated in the universities of the Middle Ages, when a warm gown and hood were essential for scholars and clerics working in unheated buildings. The distinctive gown served to set the student apart from his fellow citizens. After the American Civil War, students at most American universities, wore caps and gowns daily while in residence.

In 1894, the American Intercollegiate Commission standardized the style and color of robes and hoods. At that time, it was decided that all robes would be black; the bachelor's gown would be made of worsted with pointed sleeves; the master's gown would be silk with long closed sleeves; and the doctor's gown would be silk, faced with black velvet and three velvet bands around each sleeve above the elbow. Hoods are made of the same materials as the gowns, the length varying with the degree. The lining of the hood indicates the university by its colors. The border color indicates the academic discipline in which the degree was earned.

While some colleges have begun to depart from this tradition, the New York School of Career and Applied Studies follows the standard described above.

In the academic procession, the marshals carry maces. This practice descended from medieval weaponry and signifies the keeping of order during the ceremony. The Grand Marshal carries the Touro Great Mace.

VALEDICTORIAN
Debra Albino

At 17, Debra entered Brooklyn College as a first generation college student. The combination of a lack of discipline and guidance caused her drop out after her second year. Years later, she faced the realization that as a stay at home mom she had no independent means of support, no higher education, and no job skills. When the opportunity arose for her to become a NYCDOE paraprofessional, she jumped at the chance. This also allowed her to return to college. She enrolled in Touro College in September 2014, and she had an immediate sense of belonging. Her academic advisor, Anna, took the time to find out who she was and what she wanted. The doors were always open and good advice was always available. Had she received this kind of guidance when younger, she would have had her degree 30 years ago - but she would have missed the opportunity to develop lasting friendships! At Touro, age is transcended, and all students bring something very special to their classes, learning not only from their professors, but from each other. The diversity and sharing of unique experiences and insights are what make Touro College such a special place. Debra will miss the exchange of thoughts and ideas, the love and support, and the tremendous amount of laughter she experienced at Touro College. She was the “Baby Boomer” who took a selfie as she left the building after her very last exam. She encourages her fellow graduates to never give up on their dreams and never believe that it’s too late. Dreams can become a reality if you are willing to put in the time and work to achieve them.

VALEDICTORIAN
Lori DeMeloitz

Six years ago Lori decided that, after 22 years, it was time to leave the only career she had known to chase after a dream. After high school, she had started a full-time job and attended college at night to get a degree in education. However, before long she quit college to focus on her profession. Over two decades later, she changed careers and was given the opportunity to go back to college and get her degree. She was nervous and scared that she might be too old and unable to keep up with the workload while balancing the demands of a job and family. With the encouragement of a co-worker, who became a great friend, Lori enrolled in Touro College. She and her friend made a pact to graduate together, and, five years later, that’s exactly what they did. Along the way, Lori encountered some amazing professors, had many laughs, some crazy study nights and a lot of rearranging of her life to fit her new schedule. She had a goal and was determined to get her degree. Even studying in the middle of a pandemic hasn’t stopped her. Her wish for everyone is to pursue his or her dreams! It’s never too late and obstacles must never be allowed to stand in the way. According to Lori, “We are the Class of 2020 and we have proven that we can persevere under all circumstances!”

VALEDICTORIAN
Yehuda Shon

Yehuda is graduating from Touro NYSCAS with a major in psychology and a minor in biology. While a full time student, he worked part time as a chemistry tutor and occasional shifts as an urgent care medical assistant. He is married and lives with his wife in Brooklyn. These accomplishments belie the challenges he had to overcome to get where he is today. His elementary school gave him a comprehensive Judaic education, but he graduated with little secular education and a poor English vernacular. Determined to earn a recognized high school diploma, he enrolled in a 2-year GED program; however, his other demands made it impossible to complete that program. After consulting with a career counselor, he decided to pursue a degree in nursing. But first he needed a college degree. He struggled to make up for the deficits in his education. Between tutors, instructional videos, and help from friends and family, Yehuda began to see his hard work pay off, getting A's in all his classes. He learned that not only could he survive in college, but he could thrive. Although much of his success was due to his determination and hard work, Yehuda acknowledges that Touro played a major part. He credits the administration, advisors, and faculty with much of his success, especially those who acted more like mentors than as instructors. Yehuda often pauses in wonder that just three years ago he was barely able to write a legible paragraph or to speak English properly, yet here he is today, graduating with a 4.0 GPA. His story is very inspirational and teaches us that nothing can stand in the way of a truly determined individual.

VALEDICTORIAN
Sara Wilhelm

This was supposed to be “Sara’s Year.” This was the year that she was going to ‘walk onto stage’ and graduate with a Bachelor’s degree in Biology. This was the year she was going to start OT Graduate School. This was the year she was going to ‘walk down the aisle’ and get married. Instead, her graduation went online. Her graduate school went virtual. And her wedding has been postponed. She has asked herself if this was still her year? Yet, being chosen as a Valedictorian made her realize that she was looking at it all wrong. The negatives were obvious but there were so many positives. She had studied and her hard work paid off. Not only did she graduate, but she is a Valedictorian. Despite tough classes, competitive classmates, and difficult tests, there were amazing professors, advisors, and new friends who were always available to help. Sara says that she “has become the new me” in Touro College. For example, she credits her speech teacher, Professor Sherry Reiter, with helping her conquer her fear of public speaking. Sara was chosen to represent her class in Touro’s 25th annual speech contest, and she walked away as the first place winner! The year would go down in history as a difficult and challenging time, but the Touro graduates of 2020 learned how to take difficulties and use them as stepping stones to grow and overcome challenges. According to Sara, “ By graduating ‘virtually’, we are not losing out, we are starting our future on a higher plane, we are starting in cyberspace. Thank you and Good Luck! “
